ST. JACOBS OIL

RHEUMATISM.

Corroborative and Conclusive Testimony.

Lowell, Mass., July 9, 1887.

Gentlemen:—Mr. Lewis Dennis has just called upon me, and informs me that the boy Orin Robinson, who was a poor cripple on crutches, and was cured by St. Jacobs Oil in 1881; the cure has remained permanent. The young man has been and is now at work at manual labor; the case certainly proves the efficacy of St. Jacobs Oil.

Reno for Rio Bonito.

Am willing to trade Rio Bonito lands in Butte county, California, for two or three town lots, or for a house and lot in Reno. It is believed that Rio Bonito property will increase in value 100 per cent within two years. There are no richer lands in the world than the Feather river bottom lands, good for oranges, lemons, peaches, apricots and other fruits without irrigation. This is an excellent opportunity for speculation, or to get a home in one of the best spots in California. Will be in Reno for a few days, and will be pleased to meet all those who wish to avail themselves of this opportunity.

Give Them a Chance!

That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and choked with matter which ought not be there your lungs cannot half do their work. And what they do, they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or say of the family of throat and nose and head and lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Boschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed us, you may depend upon.

A FORTUNE IN A POCKET.

A Tailor's Honesty and Nerve Tested in a Curious Manner.

A Minneapolis tailor was somewhat surprised the other day.

A man came in his shop with a pair of trousers and asked him to do a little mending. He said he was going out of town for the night, and when he returned he would come and get the garment.

Before going to supper the tailor took up the trousers to do the work required. During an examination of the same he felt a roll of something in one of the pockets, and fearing that it might drop put his hand in the pocket and drew out what he supposed at first to be a paper of chewing tobacco.

Upon closer investigation it proved to be money. He unrolled it and found three bills of the denomination of $1,000 each, two bills of $500 each and several $20 bills. The banks had closed, the man could not be found until morning, so the tailor took the four thousand and odd dollars along with him. He says:

"It was more money than I was accustomed to carry around with me or have in the house. I had always found that $100 was sufficient for one trousers pocket, so I worried in fear I might lose it. I wanted to go to several places around town, but I thought to myself, 'Suppose some villain should pick my pocket?'

"I went home, and then was afraid that on that unlucky night a burglar might decide to come in and carry off my trousers with the money. When I went to bed I put the roll under my pillow and dreamed the most remarkable dreams about that money during the night, and awoke more than once and felt under the pillow for it.

"Once the roll had slipped to one side. I felt for it and couldn't find it. 'There,' I said, 'it is gone now. Jeminetty! The value of a house and lot!'

"I found it after a search and went to sleep and had the nightmare, and dreamed a vivid dream of having my throat cut by a burglar.

"The next day when the man came in the shop after his trousers I felt relieved. I put the money in the pocket where I found it, slyly, without saying anything and handed to him the garment. About the first thing he did was to run his hand down in the pocket. He found the roll of bills, counted them and said, 'Umph! I wondered what I had done with that money. Much obliged,' just as cool as though he was in the habit of finding $1,000 bills in his pockets every day.

"The mending cost him fifty cents."

OPTICAL AND OTHER ILLUSIONS.

Some Curious Examples of Those of Bodily Motion.

The senses are subject to illusions in proportion to the remoteness of the information that they give from the immediate necessities of the organism. Touch, the most immediate and least inferential of the senses, is least subject to illusions, sight is so very much so that the blind often say they have an advantage over the seeing in being free from visual illusions.

The illusions of bodily motion are much nearer to those of touch than to those of sight, and yet they can, under certain conditions, be induced through visual impressions. Of this the writer has recently had two interesting examples.

He was standing upon the floor of a railroad station, the boards of which were laid with a considerable open space between them and the shadow of an electric light was moving up and down by the swinging of the light in the wind.

Looking at the floor it seemed as though the shadow were stationary and the floor boards moving. From this it followed that the person on it was moving too, and the writer distinctly felt the swinging sensation; in fact, his attention was called to the phenomena by this feeling of motion.

The other observation was as follows:

While riding in the cars and looking out of the window the trees and all are seen to move in the opposite direction. If, now, one looks in a mirror so situated that it reflects the passing landscape, which, however, must not be except in the mirror, one has the illusion of moving in the opposite to the real direction of motion, owing, to the reversal of the image in the glass.

In both these cases an immediate bodily sensation is induced by a more or less unconscious inference through visual sensations.—American Analyst.

Special Charm of Women Workers.

Writing in the Illustrated London News, Florence Fenwick-Miller says:

"Women who work decidedly get a distinctive expression from it; a look of earnestness and of self-reliance, I think it is, which to me is very charming.

"It belongs to all classes of women-workers, but it struck me the other night that it is seen in perfection in women-singers, because in them it is necessarily combined with an attention to social style and a gracious effort after personal charm that evaporate, perhaps, in a measure, from some other classes of women-workers.

"In singers there is found combined care (which surely we do not want to lose) to show the person to the best advantage and to retain 'all grace of womanhood,' together with the higher, more impersonal and more elevating ambition to excel in an art, and with the independence and strength of character that a self-supporting and self-reliant career confers."

Experimental Knowledge.

Old Gent (sarcastically to young one who has a very fair opinion of his own ability)—"So you think you have a great head on your shoulders?"

Young gent—"No, sir. I don't think so; I know so. I was out all night with the boys."—Burlington Free Press.

Wedding Cards Indispensable.

A writer discussing weddings says the "no cards" wedding has passed out of sight, for it is not a wedding in the modern sense where cards are not sent.

People who are only "hitched" or "spliced" may forego paste-board, but the wedded "happy couple" never!

Why He Could Promise.

"John," said the wife tenderly, "promise me that if I should be taken away you will never marry Nance Tarbox."

"Certainly, Maria," replied the husband reassuringly, "I can promise you that. She refused me three times when I was a much handsomer man than I am now."—Chicago Tribune.

PLATFORM AND RESOLUTIONS

The following platform and resolutions were adopted by the Republican State Convention, which convened at Winnemucca on the 15th instant:

The Republicans of the State of Nevada, in Convention assembled, again express their loyalty to the principles of the Republican party, which have made this country so great and prosperous during the last quarter of a century.

RESOLVED, That the question of a sufficient supply of circulating medium to maintain a permanent range of the price of labor and property is the most important political question awaiting solution by the American people.

That a diminishing quantity of money reduces the price of labor and property, enriches the creditor, impoverishes the debtor, and paralyzes industry and enterprise.

That the present financial system of the United States, which increases or diminishes the circulating medium at the pleasure of the manipulators of the national banks, without regard to the increase of population or the wants of the people, and which recognizes gold alone as the standard of value, and places in the hands of the Treasury Department all the revenue of the Government to speculate with in bonds and loan to the national banks without interest, is subversive of the rights of the people, oppressive, unjust and should be repudiated.

That a financial policy whereby both gold and silver shall form the basis of circulation, whether the money used by the people be coin, or coin certificates redeemable in coin, or both, as convenience may require, is imperatively demanded.

That the attempt to substitute national bank notes, costing the Government millions of dollars annually, for free silver, costing nothing, is an outrage upon the people; that the money ring or trust, which has usurped the sovereign power of the Government to issue money, and which has fraudulently demonetized silver and seized the revenues of the Government for private speculation, shocks the moral sense of the people and destroys respect for government and law. We demand that this ring or trust be destroyed, and equal rights be restored to all the people.

We charge that President Cleveland is the willing tool or agent of a powerful money ring, which fattens on the subsidies of the Government, makes war on silver, issues its paper currency at the expense of the Government, borrows the revenues raised by taxation and uses them without the payment of interest, contracts the currency to enhance the value of bonds, and enriches usurers, while it depresses the price of labor and property.

That we favor the nomination of no man for President who is personally interested in national banks or the bonded indebtedness of the United States, but we demand a candidate who is free to do justice to all the people of the country—the poor as well as the rich.

That the trick of the President and his advisers by which they prevented a vote in the House of Representatives on the Beck silver amendment to the Bond Purchase bill, equals the villainy of the secret and fraudulent demonetization of silver in 1873.

II.

RESOLVED, That we are in favor of the protection of home industry, and that the laborers of this country have a right to all the work required to supply the people of the United States, and that we are in favor of high wages, and to that end will protect the wage-workers from competition with the cheap labor of other lands.

RESOLVED, That the policy of the Government should be inaugurated and established by the people through their representatives in both Houses of Congress, and not by the President or money trust, of which he, either as agent or head, is most active in defending.

III.

We charge President Cleveland with violating every promise he made in favor of civil service reform, with crippling the mail service, with refusing to sign necessary bills for the improvement of rivers and harbors, with using the power of his administration to prevent appropriations for navy and coast defenses, with attempting to destroy the protective tariff, with corrupting the good will of other nations at the expense of the citizens of the United States, and with joining the foreign bondholders to demonetize silver and destroy the industries of his own country, and for the reduction of the wages of the Mint employes at Carson, for closing the Carson Mint when it was not only self-sustaining but a source of revenue to the Government, for his contemptuous vetoes of bills for the relief of disabled soldiers and sailors, and for failing to construct the Government building at Carson as required by law.

IV.

We are in favor of the absolute exclusion of Chinese, and of the restriction of immigration by which the overcharged condition of the labor market is made worse, and we favor legislation by which a revision of our naturalization and land laws may be accomplished.

V.

We demand in behalf of our various industries the retention of the duties on lead borax, soda, hides and leather, and to restore the tariff of 1867 on wool.

VI.

RESOLVED, That we recognize the right of labor to organize for its lawful protection.

VII.

We favor the appropriations by Congress for hydrographical and topographical surveys in this State, to the end that the waste waters may be preserved for the purpose of irrigation.

VIII.

We endorse the wise and conservative administration of Governor Stevenson, and we heartily commend the able efforts of Senators Jones and Stewart and Representative Goodwin in behalf of the interests of this State.

IX.

We favor the granting to Nevada of all Government land within the State for the purpose of providing means for irrigation and other improvements.

X.

We favor the reduction of the Treasury surplus by the payment of pensions to Union soldiers, their widows and orphans, the improvement of rivers and harbors, the building of defenses for the sea coast, the erection of public buildings, the creation of a navy, the purchase of bonds and the repeal of the internal revenue laws taxing tobacco.

XI

It is the duty of this State to maintain free, non-sectarian schools in the rural and sparsely settled districts, as well as in towns and thickly populated sections, and that such division of the school money shall be made as will furnish the means of education to all children of the State.

XII

We are in favor of reopening the Carson Mint for coinage and raising the wages of its employes to the standard paid by the last administration.

XIII.

We demand the restoration of the mail service in this State to the efficiency maintained by the last Republican administration, and favor the payment of fair wages to all postal employes.

Of New York.

THURSDAY.....JULY 12, 18 8

THE nominations of President and Vice-President by the Republican party have been made and a platform of principles published to the world. And it is most fortunate that the character of the candidates both personally and politically is such that we are required to offer no excuses, to make no defenses.

They are pure, able and upright, and the platform on which they have been placed is clear, strong and impregnable. We are required to make no explanation or interpretations. The great business, therefore, of the party henceforth till November will be to go before the people, both privately and publicly, and show them the wisdom of our principles and the great advantage that will prove to themselves and to the country from a change from a Democratic to a Republican administration. But is is not enough that we have an unexceptionable ticket—it is not enough that we have the wisest and strongest platform that the party ever published. The political leaders must go everywhere instructing and persuading the people. Not only so the individual members of the party have a work to perform. They can often do more in winning over men to our principles, our party, than the most eloquent public speakers.

It is, indeed, in a hand-to-hand fight that the victory is to be won, and it should be continually borne in mind by every individual worker that it is no unimportant fruitless work in which he is engaged. It is not a mere contest for the loaves and fishes, for the spoils of office, but it is a work for the good of the people, the welfare of and prosperity of the whole nation. If we believe, as we profess, that the adoption and carrying out of the principles and policy of the Republican party are best calculated to promote the highest political interests of the American people—it is the duty of every member of the party to do all he can to aid in the great work now before us. If every member of the party shall perform faithfully his part of this work, a grand victory awaits us in November.

A RECENT discussion in the Senate is of interest to the whole country. It has long been a favorite project to widen the canal which connects Lake Michigan with the Illinois river, converting it into a ship canal and thereby giving the country a complete water highway from New York to New Orleans, from the Atlantic ocean to the gulf, from the East through the West to the South. The advantage of such water communication, equally in time of peace and in time of war, is self-evident, and the magnificent water-course thus secured would benefit alike North and South, East and West. The necessary canal has long been in operation, and needs only to be widened and deepened. And it is only about a hundred miles long. Surely such a magnificent waterway was never obtained at so small a cost by any other country, and it cannot be that ours will much longer refuse or put off the needful outlay.

THE German doctors are relieving their minds and Mr. Mackenzie is, to use a colloquialism "catching it." The Dutch doctors knew all about the Emperor's throat from the beginning, and could have taken their oath that the disease was a cancer. But some of them are of the opinion that a cure could have been affected by a removal of the vocal chords, and they seem to agree upon little except a disapproval of Dr. Mackenzie. To professional is added national jealousy and the rangle is bitter. To the unprofessional mind, nothing is more absurd than for a doctor to undertake to say what would have been if something else had not have been.

AFTER MANY YEARS.

A Father Marries His Own Daughter.

NEW YORK, July 12.—A remarkable story, involving the marriage of a father to his own daughter, was made public yesterday. The parties are Polish Hebrews and the man's name is said to be Isaac Waldorff. He is a merchant on the east side. He was married in Germany about twenty years ago, but after two months he left his wife and came to this country. He prospered in business, married a new wife and was left a widower a few years ago with three children.

Last year he met a Hebrew girl in distress, on Broadway, who had just landed and had wandered away from Castle Garden. She said her name was Minnie Sterling, and Waldorff took her to his home and gave her a night's lodging. As she showed a fondness for his children he dismissed his housekeeper and engaged her.

A few months later he married her. She kept in communication with her mother and recently wrote for the latter to come and visit her. When the mother arrived she recognized her daughter's husband as the man who had married her in his youth and was the father of her child, now his wife.

Waldorff was in utter ignorance of the fact that he had a child in Germany and of the identity of his wife. He sought counsel of the rabbi of his congregation and the matter was referred to Grand Rabbi Joseph, who arrived in the country a few days ago.

NATIONAL COMMITTEE.

An Important Meeting Being Held In New York City.

NEW YORK, July 11.—Groups of distinguished gentlemen stood about the corridors of the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning before the National Republican Committee went into session about noon. Nearly all the members of the committee were present, and the probable selection of officers to be named to-day was discussed. The man most prominently spoken of in connection with the Chairmanship of the committee was Senator Quay. His absence from the meeting was considered as bearing out the probability of his election.

Congressman Payne of Pittsburg was at the hotel prepared to act as proxy for Quay. He said the latter would accept it if General Harrison desired him to do so. Among the others named as probable candidates were John C. New of Indiana, Clarkson of Iowa, and Hyde of Massachusetts. Senator Platt was most prominently mentioned as Chairman of the Executive Committee, and W. W. Dudley of Indiana was another candidate. At a few minutes after twelve o'clock the committee went into session. The proceedings were held in private with J. S. Clarkson of Iowa as temporary Chairman and Samuel Fessenden of Connecticut temporary Secretary. After a session of about half an hour, the committee took recess, having appointed a committee of nine to report a plan of organization and one on candidates for permanent officers, etc.

Important Land Decision.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—The Secretary of the Interior has rendered a decision in case of Malone vs. Union Pacific Railroad, in which he holds that an unexpired pre-emption filing, existing within the railroad company's granted limits at the time of filing its location of route with the Interior Department, except such land from the grant. This is considered a very important decision, and is a subject on which the Secretary has expended a great deal of study.

Hanged for a Brutal Crime.

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 12.—Stephen Freeman, colored, convicted of raping a white woman, was hanged here to-day. The execution took place in jail, only thirty-six witnesses being admitted, as required by law. Several applications were made to the Governor for pardon or commutation, but after careful consideration he refused to interfere. Freeman protested his innocence to the last.

A Glimpse of Freedom.

DUBLIN, July 12.—Patrick Joseph O'Brien, member of Parliament for North Division, Tipperary, was released from Tullamore jail to-day, the term for the violation of the Crimes Act having expired. He was immediately taken to Kilkenny jail to serve another term of three months for a similar offense.

THE REPUBLICAN ARMY.

Thirteen Thousand Uniformed Clubs to be Organized.

SARATOGA, N. Y., July 11.—The State Convention of Republican Clubs met here this afternoon, President R. R. Hefford of Buffalo in the chair.

President James P. Foster of the National League of Republican Clubs was invited to the platform and spoke briefly. There were, he said, 13,000 school districts in the States, and it was proposed to organize a Republican club in every one of them. In doing this the questions at issue would be brought directly home to the people.

President Hefford, following Foster, addressed the convention. He outlined the possibilities of liberal education and republicanism of the people by the work of these League clubs. The organization was not projected to aid any political aspirations, nor to raise campaign funds. These were issues to be met by the Republican clubs. New clubs should be organized, and a link should be thus made between the State and National Committee, and the voter's standard of citizenship should be lifted. Assimilation of the hordes of foreigners should cause study. The excess of votes to Congressmen of the North over the votes represented by Congressmen of the South should be remedied. The Republican party was lauded because of its record, and the convention was congratulated upon what the speaker deemed its bright future.

The Committee on Resolutions reported a resolution enthusiastically ratifying the nomination of Harrison and Morton, heartily approving the national platform, and also appealing to all citizens to cooperate in organizing and securing victory for the National and State tickets of the Republican party.

The convention chose four delegates at large to the National Convention of Republican Clubs at Chicago.

Maxwell's Fight for Life.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 11.—The attorneys for Hugh M. Brooks today commenced a battle which will either result in his death on the gallows or imprisonment in the penitentiary for life. The entire day was occupied by John F. Martin in reading letters and presenting petitions asking for executive clemency. No less than 4,500 persons had taken interest enough in the case to either attach their names to the petitions or write letters. Mrs. Brooks and her daughter remained at the hotel all day. A few minutes before 6 o'clock this evening Mr. Martin announced that he was about through with the petitions and letters. Everybody was worn out and by unanimous consent the case was laid over until 9 o'clock tomorrow. Mr. Martin says that he will present a few more petitions, make a short speech of a sympathetic nature and give way to Mr. Fauntleroy. The latter said he would not consume over two hours, in which event the case will be in the Governor's hands by noon.

Democratic Campaign Committee.

WASHINGTON, July 10.—Wm. H. Barnum, Chairman of the National Democratic Committee, to-day appointed the following named gentlemen as a Campaign Committee: Wm. M. Scott of Pennsylvania, Arthus P. Gorman of Maryland, Matt W. Ransom of North Carolina, Calvin S. Brice of Ohio, John S. Barbour of Virginia, Herman Elrich of New York, Arthur Sewall of Maine and Erskine M. Phelps of Illinois. There will be a meeting of the Campaign Committee at the headquarters of the National Democratic Committee, New York City, on Tuesday, July 17.

A Paris Sensation.

LONDON, July 12,—Paris has a sensation, the suffocation in a lunatic asylum of the well-known English massageur, Johnson, who attended in a professional capacity the Prince of Wales, the Emperor of Brazil, Lord Lytton and other notable persons. Five keepers attempted to place Johnson in a straight jacket. The patient resisted when the keepers muffled Johnson's face with an apron. Presently Johnson dropped dead, apparently having been smothered by his keepers. The keepers have been suspended and the police will institute an investigation.

Indian Supplies.

WASHINGTON, July 12.—Captain J. J. Hassler, Appointment Clerk of the Interior Department, and S. M. Yeatman, Clerk in the Indian Office, will leave shortly for San Francisco to open bids and award contracts for Indian supplies to Indians located west of the Rocky Mountains. The awards will include clothing, agricultural implements, beef, etc., and will aggregate $65,000. Captain Hassler will represent the Secretary of the Interior, and Mr. Yeatman the Commissioner of Indian Affairs.

Jury-Bribing Railroad Officials.

CHICAGO, July 12.—The famous jury-briding case of Sumner C. Welch of the South Chicago cable road ended to-day. In Judge Hawes' decision President Holmes of the road and the attorneys were scored for their corrupt practices, and Welch was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, and a recommendation made that the Grand Jury indict and further punish him. A motion of counsel to admit Welch to bail was overruled, and the prisoner sent to jail.

SLY BRET HARTE.

He Figures in a Sensational Divorce Case.

NEW YORK, July 12.—Mrs. Clara Louise Folsom, who is petite and decidedly attractive, made her second appearance in the chambers of the Court of Common Pleas yesterday. She wore a striped silk gown and a pair of gold-rimmed eye-glasses rested very snugly and comfortably upon her nose. When her counsel argued a motion of alimony some weeks ago he recited the main facts alleged in her complaint for a limited divorce.

Since the last hearing Mrs. Folsom has prepared an amended complaint, containing many new and sensational charges. Among some of her husband's alleged abuses she says that in July, 1874, they were living at 45 Fifth Avenue with Bret Harte. Mr. Folsom saw his wife one day standing in the kitchen with the poet of the Sierra. He rushed up to her as soon as Mr. Harte was gone, calling her a liar and intimating that he had nipped a criminal intrigue in the bud. He seized a pan of dishwater and threw it at her. Altogether, according to Mrs. Folsom, she is a much-abused woman.

Chinese Not Pleased.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—In the State Department it is expected that news of the ratification of the Chinese treaty by the Imperial authorities will be received within a few days. There are rumors that China will not ratify the treaty as it was amended by the Senate, but Government officials do not lay much stress upon these reports. As soon as the treaty is ratified, legislation to put into effect will be adopted by both houses of Congress.

What Florida People Live On.

"What do you Florida people live on in summer"? "Fish." "What in the winter"? "Yankees." Alas! how many northerners draw their last breath in Florida, slain by that fell destroyer, consumption, who would have lived, had they used at first that marvelous specific for consumption, when not too far advanced, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery—better than hypophosphites and cod liver oil, because more nutritive and tonic; also an invaluable liver, corrective and blood purifier, cleansing away all scrofulous humors (which cause consumption), and all other impurities of the blood, curing glandular swellings, goitre or thick neck, old sores and ulcers. The report of the First National Rank of Reno for the month ending June 30th, 1888, is published in to-day's issue. It is a very gratifying showing of the financial condition of this stable institution, and shows a healthy increase over the same month of the year 1887.

James Moore of Virginia City has received news of his appointment to the office of United States Marshal for this State, vice T. E. Kelly, deceased. The Enterprise says Moore is a good man and his appointment would be a credit to any administration, and is particularly so to a Democratic one.

News has been received here of the death yesterday in Los Angeles, Cal., of Mrs. J. L. Smith, recently of Genoa and formerly of Reno. The deceased was a daughter of W. J. Marsh, an old resident of Reno, and was esteemed and loved by a large circle of friends who will be pained to learn of her early demise.

To-day Hugh Kelley and Thomas White, the tramps who so brutally assaulted the gardener of Mt. St. Mary's Academy about two weeks ago, and are now serving time in the county jail for the offense, refused to work longer in the chain-gang. ADMITS HER GUILT.

Lizzie Lindsay Confesses to Having Poisoned Robert Pitcher.

Lizzie Lindsay, who is serving a term in State Prison for murder in the second degree for poisoning Robert Pitcher at Carson several years ago and who was saved from hanging by the finding of a letter among her effects wherein she wrote that she had intended to poison herself and that the poisoned liquor drank by Pitcher was prepared for herself and drank by him accidentally, writes to District Attorney Torreyson of Ormsby that she wrote the latter after the poisoning of Pitcher, and it was dictated to her by her attorney and that the poisoned whisky was intentionally given to her victim.

Runaway Last Evening.

A horse, attached to a buggy, the property of A. McInosh, took fright about 7 o'clock last evening and ran away. On its mad flight it collided with a buggy in which Richmond Smith, Wells-Fargo's agent, was seated, and a serious catastrophe was only averted by the nerve of that gentleman, who struck the horse over the head with a whip, causing the animal to swerve in its course. The only damage done was the wrecking of a wheel of the buggy belonging to Mr. McIntosh.

HALLECK RANCH.

AN ELKO COUNTY ENTERPRISE.

The Largest Stock Breeding Establishment in Nevada—Men who Have Faith in the Future—Milt Polk.

Special Correspondence GAZETTE.]

HALLECK, July 10, 1888.

EDITOR GAZETTE: When I transmitted my letter describing the Oasis ranch I little dreamed that I would, a week after, be traversing the Halleck ranch of over 20,000 acres. I reached this station on Saturday last and after breakfasting at Ham McCain's hotel, and taking a view of the surrounding country in the immediate vicinity of the Humboldt river, which at this season of the year is lovely, (although the water in this historic stream is very low), and making inquiries about the crops, I returned to the hotel and was met by Mr. Milt Polk, the gentleman who has charge of this mammoth ranch in the absence of Mr. Scott, and was soon on my way towards Fort Halleck. Riding over the country, the first ranch I struck was that of Mr. McCain, on which were grazing a large number of fine cattle, particularly on the meadow lands. The gentleman complains of a scarcity of water and therefore his crop this year will not be up to the average. To the right of me lies the large ranch of Philip S. Witcher, which embraces within a well-fixed wire fence over 5,000 acres of good land. Secret creek waters the soil but not sufficiently for the purposes of irrigation. However, there are large quantities of rich rye and wild grass now ready for the reapers. His cattle are numerous and owing to the vast extent of his range are doing well. He has not sown any alfalfa as yet, but assured me that he would next year, and that the land was particularly adapted to its growth. These two gentlemen have experimented with esparcet and say that it is a failure without plenty of water can be had to foster its growth. Passing along for about six miles I struck the outer edges of the Halleck ranch and after a speedy drive of three miles more I was soon in the handsome residence of the home ranch.

THE HALLECK RANCH.

Early next morning, with Mr. Polk, I entered into an investigation of the surrounding country. And what a sight met my gaze! As far as the eye could reach nothing but green fields and pastures new, with the Ruby mountains in the distance, partially covered with snow, and the foothills bedecked with thousands of the finest looking Hereford cattle to be seen in any part of the country. My trip was soon forgotten when I contemplated that the ranch I was about to traverse was inclosed within fifty-five miles of wire fence the posts sustaining which are all of native mountain cedar. Within this extensive inclosure there are not less than 2,000 head of Herefords, from the thoroughbred to the best grade in crossing, possibly the best to be seen in any part of the United States. They are dealing only with select cows and thoroughbred Hereford bulls. Some of the former cost as much as $750, while the bulls range in value from that amount to $1,000 per head. One of the latter, "Homestretch," is well-known to all frequenters of our State Fair, he having taken the sweepstakes at the Nevada State Fair in the years 1885 and 1887 and his owners were awarded the silver medal which established his superiority.

THE HALLECK CATTLE COMPANY

Pride themselves no more over this victory than they do over the success of their wonderful cow, "Patch," which also secured the sweepstakes and was awarded the medal by the Nevada State Agricultural Society over all competitors of every grade of cattle exhibited.

There are three large, handsome Cleveland Bays here also. "Baron Rothschild," sired by Newton; dam, Barnaby; dam of Lord of the Manor, and cost $2,000. He with two half-breeds, were purchased from Jesse Harris of Fort Collins, Colorado, and are all colts, having been imported only last year.

There is something over one hundred head of fine horses and mares here, while on their Montana ranch the company have over 2,000 head, not speaking of what they have in Idaho. Nevertheless Mr. Scott, as well as Mr. Polk, are loud in their praise of the peculiar adaptability of the soil of Nevada and the character of its rye, wild grasses and alfalfa for the development of the finest horses and cattle in the country.

THE HOME RANCH,

Whence I started on my tour, is situated almost in the very center of this vast domain and from the roof of the magnificent mansion, which is occupied by Mr. Polk, you can see nearly every interesting section of it. The dwelling is nine miles east of the Central Pacific railroad, while Fort Halleck is only six miles distant. The company own all the alternate sections, which they recently purchased from the Central Pacific railroad people, so that they are operating unencumbered.

Leaving this beautiful spot I believe I traveled over thirty miles, going from section to section of each division of this immense ranch. It was a striking scene to witness the large bands of superior Hereford cattle grazing in the foothills and meadows that are supplied with water and moisture from the eternal springs and lakes of the snow-capped Ruby mountains.

Some six miles from the home ranch in Star valley, they have successfully cultivated alfalfa and have already cut their first crop, the yield going far beyond their most sanguine expectations, owing to the proper husbanding of the water taken from Secret creek. The rolling foothills between these two points furnish cattle with an excellent pasturage, while the natural springs in the mountain sides and the waters of Secret creek are ever within the area they traverse.

There is a piece of territory, embracing something over 6,000 acres of fenced meadow lands, immediately above Halleck station, on the Humboldt river, where, after they are through haying, cattle find good fall pasture and winter quarters, being fed from the large corrals where hay is stacked for winter use. The entire property of this enterprising and successful company extends almost from the Central Pacific railroad to the very base of the Ruby range of mountains. These lofty mountains are fully 11,000 feet above sea level, and a chain of lakes of the purest water are found scattered near their summit. Fort Halleck, now abandoned, but which still comes under the head of a reservation, and which consists of over 5,000 acres of the best land in Nevada, lies right at their base.

THE WATER STORAGE PROBLEM.

The question that most particularly concerns all the ranchers here is, "Why could not the water of the lakes referred to, be appropriated for irrigation purposes." All that is needed is storage reservoirs, and their construction should be provided for by both the National and State governments, aided by private capital, and then this whole section of country would be a blooming paradise and thousands would thrive and become prosperous where, only a few enterprising people are deriving great benefits. This water, provided by generous nature, can be found in the Ruby range all the way from Lamoille to the Wells, and if properly stored would answer all the purposes of the tiller of the soil, cattlemen and ranchers on this side of them, as well as the industrious farmers in Ruby valley.

The admirable adaptability of this water, and many other bodies similarly situated throughout the State, has been philosophically commented upon by Dan DeQuille and should be heeded by the law-making power of the commonwealth.

A WORD CONCERNING MILT POLK.

Resuming the thread of my narrative, let me say that Milt Polk, as he is familiarly known, has been here for almost nine years, and during that time, under Mr. Scott, who now spends most of his time in Montana and Idaho, has brought the ranch to its present degree of perfection. The former has complete charge at present and certainly the business could not be entrusted to more competent hands. The manner in which he has perfected the irrigation of so much land with an ordinary supply of water is absolutely marvelous. Not a drop of the precious fluid is allowed to go to waste. It is all appropriated for excellent purposes. Yet in his modest way he attributes the whole success of the affair to the energy, sagacity and business foresight of Mr. Scott, who, he says, openly declares that the soil of Nevada is eminently adapted for such purposes.

Mr. Polk came to this coast in 1847, locating in Oregon where he followed farming, mining and the cattle business. He is well-known in Idaho, Montana, Nevada and British Columbia. In almost every place, wherever he located for any length of time, he has been invariably connected with the Sheriff's office. A man of cool, deliberative character, keen foresight and undoubted courage, he, although generous to a fault, is rigid and disciplinary in his duty. The last public position he held was that of Deputy Sheriff of Elko county, under J. H. Taber, when he distinguished himself by the prompt and effective manner in which he arrested the notorious Hawley and gang two nights after their vain attempt to rob the railroad train at Montello. He is a man of courage and energy and is highly respected by all who know or come in contact with him.

He is a candidate before the Republican Convention for Sheriff of this county and judging from his success in other directions, I would not be surprised to hear of his nomination. He is in his fifty-first year, just in the prime of life, and besides his strong character is a gentleman of culture and education. He is a lineal descendant of the Polk family, one of whom graced the Presidential chair, and as to his literary acquirements no better test can be vouchsafed than a glance at the select works of the ablest authors with which he has surrounded himself, and the excellent language he indulges in when discussing subjects with which every citizen should be familiar. NAHOM.

Wedding Bells.

Last evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Smith, Curtis L. Knight and Miss Etta E. Smith were united in the holy bonds of matrimony by the Rev. C. L. Fisher of the Baptist church. The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few intimate friends of the contracting parties, who subsequently toasted the happy pair in bumpers of champagne, accompanied with best wishes for their future happiness, in which the GAZETTE and a large circle of friends sincerely join.

WELCOMED HOME.

A Large Audience Greets the Dockstader Minstrels.

McKissick's Opera House was crowded last evening to welcome Dickie Jose and the Dockstader minstrels, and the performance given was what was expected from that great aggregation of minstrel talent. From the rising of the curtain on the excellent first part to its falling on the ludicrous finale of the after-piece the fun was fast and furious. The singing by the four monarchs of song, Jose, Frillman, Dixon and Davis, was a treat rarely vouchafed our people, and the specialty acts by the various members of the company were also of a high standard.

The rising of Dickie Jose to sing "The Song that Reached My Heart," was the signal for such an ovation as rarely greets a minstrel, and for a time its recipient was almost overcome with emotion. His beautiful voice, however, did not fail in its duty, and at the conclusion of the song the vast audience applauded until almost exhausted. At its conclusion numerous floral offerings, consisting of boquets, wreathes and set pieces were handed to the Reno favorite, a pleasing feature of the presentation being that of a boquet by the young daughter of R. H. Lindsay, who bravely wended her way to the stage and awaited the ending of the song before presenting her mite—a beautiful bcquet of choicest flowers. In response to the demands of the people, who never tire of listening to the rare melody which flows from Dickie's lips, he sang several old favorites—songs that he used to sing before the thought of ever being famous entered his head—which were readily remembered by his old friends and companions present.

Mr. Dockstader, who has been a staunch friend of Dickie Jose's since his debut in New York, was also the recipient of a handsome floral offering in the shape of an anvil, which was presented to him as a token of esteem and friendship by a number of the latter's friends who are of the opinion that "Dickie's friend is their friend," a sentiment which was evidently concurred in by the audience. In responding Mr. Dockstader paid a high tribute to Dickie's worth as a man and a singer, and said that Reno had good reason to be proud of its favorite.

HENDERSON CONVICTED.

Reno's Pet Expressman to be Punished at Last.

Henry Henderson, whose career in this town is too well known to need recounting here, has at last been vanquished in a contest with the law, and bids fair to do the State of California excellent service in San Quentin. Fortunately for the ends of justice, San Francisco was not too poor to prosecute him, neither were the officials of the town as tender-hearted and zealous as some the GAZETTE knows of, and the result is that the black-hearted scoundrel will do penance for his many misdeeds behind the iron bars of a penitentiary. It is now in order for his friends and sympathizers here to forward messages of sympathy to the condemned brute, or unite in petitioning the Governor of California for a pardon. The following from yesterday's San Francisco Chronicle is very interesting reading:

"William (Henry) Henderson, a colored man, was tried in Judge Murphy's department of the Criminal Court yesterday for rape, and was found guilty as charged. The offense was committed against his fifteen-year-old step-daughter, Frances Drake, and the guilty wretch kept up an intercourse with her for a long time, until her condition was noticed by the neighbors who carried the story to the Society for the Prevention of Vice, which caused Henderson's arrest. Henderson came to the city about a year ago, from Reno, Nev., where his reputation was very bad. The trial yesterday was conducted with closed doors."

Their Business Booming.

Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Hodkinson & Co.'s Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

Restores the color, gloss, and youthful freshness of the hair; stimulates a rich and luxurious growth; thoroughly cleanses the scalp; prevents dandruff and humors; and is the most cleanly and effective preparation for the hair ever offered to the public. Rev. J. W. Davenport, Illinois Bend, Texas, writes: "Ayer's Hair Vigor, used in my family for several years, has no equal as a dressing, nor for preventing the hair from falling out or turning prematurely gray. It ranks among the first luxuries of our house." Miss Kate Rose, Ingersoll, Ontario, writes: "While keeping my head clear of dandruff, and preventing Scald Head, Ayer's Hair Vigor has also caused my hair to grow luxuriantly, resulting in my now possessing hair forty-two inches long, and as thick as could be desired." The wife of Dr. V. S. Lovelace, Lovelaceville, Ky., had very bad tetter sores upon her head, causing the hair to fall out. Ayer's Hair Vigor healed the sores, and in less than twelve months produced hair a foot long.

No More Bald Heads.

To produce a new growth of hair on bald heads, in the case of persons advanced in years, is not always possible. When the glands are decayed and gone, no stimulant can restore them; but, when they are only inactive, from the need of some excitant, the application of Ayer's Hair Vigor will renew their vitality, and a new growth will result. L. V. Templeton, Newbern, N. C., writes: "After a protracted illness, with fever, my hair all came out, leaving me entirely bald. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Hair Vigor, and, before I had used all its contents, a thick growth of hair, nearly two inches long, covered my head." L. D. McJunkin, Perryville, Md., writes: "Baldness is hereditary in my family. Five years ago the hair on the top of my head was becoming weak and thin. I procured Ayer's Hair Vigor, the application of which invigorated the hair roots, and sent out a new growth of young hair. To-day my hair is as thick and vigorous as ever. I still use the Vigor occasionally to keep my scalp in a healthy condition."

WHEN WIFE'S A GO'N' AWAY.

Somehow yarns around the groc'ry
Ain't so funny as before,
An' I'm all the time forgettin'
This or that 'ere little chore;
When I git out in the kitchen,
Want to hang around an' stay;
Guess I'm foolish caus this ev'nin',
Why—my wife's a go'n' away.

She's a fixin' things up for me
With a thoughtful lovin' care,
Tellin' me that somethin's here,
An' somethin' else is over there;
Lookin' sober, speakin' low voiced,
Though she hasn't much to say;
Ketch her eyes on me all dim like—
Guess she hates to go away.

Wish 'twas over—wish 'twas way off—
Wish we didn't have to part,
That's jist what I keep a thinkin,'
An' afeelin' in my heart.
P'raps our speerits see much further
Than the partin' of to-day,
An' jest hint what they can't tell us,
When a loved one's go'n' away.

Calls to mind another journey,
By an' by we all must go,
Wonder who's a gettin' ready
For the train that moves so slow?
Brings the tears to think about it,
So I git nigh her an' pray,
It may be my time for startin'
Jest when she's a go'n' away.

POOR LO AND THE MAJOR.

A Good Story from the Far West.

A certain fort in the far West, so the story goes, was in command of a major of artillery who was constantly lamenting that his favorite arm could not be more frequently used against the Indians.

Finally one day he took one of the small howitzers which defended the fort, and had it securely strapped to the back of an army mule, with the muzzle projecting over the animal's tail.

With this novel gun carriage he proceeded in high feather with the captain and a sergeant to a bluff on the bank of the Missouri, near which was encamped a band of friendly Indians. The gun was duly loaded and primed, the fuse inserted, and the mule backed to the edge of the bluff.

The major remarked something about the moral effect the exhibition was likely to produce upon the Indian allies, and stepped gayly forward and applied the match.

The curiosity of the mule was aroused. He jerked his head around to see what was fizzing away there on his back, and the next second his feet were all bunched together and making forty revolutions a minute, while the gun was threatening everything under the canopy within a radius of ten miles with instant destruction.

The captain shinned up the only available tree. The sergeant threw himself flat on the ground and tried to dig a hole with his bayonet to crawl into, while the fat major rolled over and over in agony, alternately invoking the protection of Providence and cursing the mule.

Finally the explosion came, the ball going through the roof of the fort. The recoil of the gun and the wild leap of the terrified mule carried both over the bluff to a safe anchorage at the bottom of the river. The discomfited party returned sadly to the fort.

Shortly after the chief of the Indians appeared and announced briefly:

"Injun go home."

Questioned as to why, he thus explained:

"Injun ver' brave; help white man. Injun use gun, use bow arrow, use knife; but when white man fire off whole jackass Injun no understand, no think right, Injun no help fight um that way."—Toronto World.

CHICAGO'S OPINION OF CHICAGO.

Room for an Extended Development of Culture in That Modest City.

There is much room for a development of culture in certain classes of Chicago society.

The proprietor of what he is pleased to call the only first-class restaurant in the West was asked by a canvasser to subscribe for a Chicago literary journal.

"How much is it?" he asked.

"Four dollars a year," the canvasser replied.

"Four dollars?" replied the restaurateur (?) "I wouldn't give 50 cents for all the literature in the country. I don't make any money readin'."

A well-known packer was interviewed on the same subject by the same canvasser.

"A paper is it?" he replied. "If every man in Chicago subscribed for that paper I wouldn't. Papers are a public nuisance. If there wasn't a paper in existence the country would be better off. I don't believe in readin'. If people spent less time readin' they would have more time for making money."

Comment on such statements is unnecessary further than that the above remarks are absolutely true.

With such creatures in a community passing as respectable citizens it is no wonder that the West is not recognized as a centre of culture.—Chicago American.

Ten Average American Men.

An observant citizen makes the following calculation, which is given for what it is worth:

Out of every ten average American men, one will take the wrong side of the walk, two will stand in the door of a car if there is no seat, three will sport a toothpick in their mouths in public, four will expectorate in public places, five will carry an umbrella horizontally under their arm in the street, six will cross their legs in a car, seven will fail to remove their hat in a down-town elevator when a lady enters, eight will forget to shut a car door when they go in or out, nine will risk their lives to catch a train when they could just as well wait for the next one, and the whole ten will growl all their lives at public nuisances without doing anything to abate them.

There To Be Seen.

A young gentleman of France, one evening after a dance, made a bet while supping that he could swallow a raw egg without breaking the shell, and he did so. A few days afterward he experienced violent pains, the doctor administered a strong emetic, the egg came back, but broken, and out sprang a young chicken.

The warmth of the young man's stomach had produced the unexpected result, and if any one doubts the truth of the story, say those who vouch for it, he can go to Chalons and see the chicken that was hatched.

Too Often the Case.

When second childhood comes a man forgets he is old.—Picayune.

The Straightest Man.

Teacher—"Who was the most upright man in the Bible?"

Smart boy—"I know who was the straightest."

Teacher—"Well, who was the straightest?"

Smart boy—"Joseph."

Teacher—"Why?"

Smart boy—"Because Pharaoh made a ruler of him."

MEDICAL.

EVERY NIGHT I SCRATCHED

Until the Skin was Raw, Body Covered with scales like spots of mortar. Cured by the Cuticura Remedies.

I am going to tell you of the extraordinary change your Cuticura Remedies performed on me. About the first of April last I noticed some red pimples like coming out all over my body, but thought nothing of it until some time later on, when it began to look like spots of mortar spotted on, and which came off in layers, accompanied with itching. I would scratch every night until I was raw, and then the next night the scales being formed meanwhile were scratched off again. In vain did I consult all the doctors in the country, but without aid. After giving up all hopes of recovery, I happened to see an advertisement in the newspaper about your Cuticura Remedies, and purchased them from my druggist and obtained almost immediate relief. I began to notice that the scaly eruptions gradually dropped off and disappeared one by one, and have been fully cured. I had the chess thirteen months before I began using the Cuticura Remedies, and in four or five weeks was entirely cured. My disease was eczema and psoriasis. I recommended the Cuticura Remedies to all in my vicinity, and I know of a great many who have taken them and thank me for the knowledge of them, especially mothers who have babes with scaly eruptions on their heads and bodies. I cannot express in words the thanks to you for what the Cuticura Remedies have been to me. My body was covered with scales, and I was an awful spectacle to behold. Now my skin is as nice and clear as a baby's.
